

Simple, rapid distribution designed for the future.
Making life easier for facilities managers.

Making your life easier and reducing your costs...

Using the fundamental principles of LEAN methodology, RLT Onsite streamlines the delivery of materials to sites which reduces waste and costs dramatically.

It's not rocket science, but with our changing world, your clients are expecting you to do more, for less. RLT Onsite turns traditional thinking around and provides you with a flexible delivery system that ensures your parts go straight to site, on time, every time.

We maximise your workforce productivity. Your engineers will spend more time earning money on sites fixing problems than having to source their materials wasting time, fuel and resources.

And in the process, we fulfil our mission; we make your life easier.

...with LEAN thinking and a unique business model.

The super-hub business model gives you exceptional advantages and makes the whole process as streamlined as possible.
